

BlueCross BlueShield
of North Carolina

Medicine that can't be used by one person could be invaluable to someone else. That's why Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina has a relationship with RemediChain, a non-profit funded by grants. Donating unused, unopened medications to RemediChain helps provide life-saving medications to those in need – and helps keep our environment green!

Donate unused meds to others in need.

We accept donations of certain unopened, unexpired medication, and we match those donations with vulnerable patients in need.
